Trauma Training: Foundations of Trauma Treatment

Effective and successful Trauma treatment includes so much more than processing the traumatic memory! Therefore, this training was designed to increase competency in the effective treatment of the foundational areas of trauma treatment. This includes information on diagnosing following traumatic experiences, diagnoses resulting from complex or developmental trauma, and diagnoses with high comorbidity with PTSD as well as differentiating between diagnoses. Basic information regarding counselor awareness of medications will also be addressed. This training also presents a framework for identifying and treating the 8 domains of impairment following trauma as well as establishing the 6 core components for trauma treatment. Finally, this training presents a New Model for The Window of Tolerance which was conceptualized and written by the presenter, Abby Wallace, MA, LPC-MHSP, NCC, and represents a significant change from the model originally conceived by Dr. Dan Seigel. Presentation of this model also includes how it can be useful with clients, using the model with clients and their family members, and utilizing the model to assist in conceptualizing treatment and accessing practical resources for assistance in treatment.

Learning Objectives: as a result of attending this workshop, participants will be able to:

1. Differentiate between life stressors and Traumatic experiences
2. Demonstrate knowledge of multiple diagnoses common to individuals following a traumatic experience or history of complex or developmental trauma.
3. Understand basic concerns about medications that impact the counseling experience
4. Effectively conceptualize treatment needs within the 8 potential domains of impairment following trauma.
5. Identify the 6 Core Components of Trauma Treatment
6. Teach the New Model of The Window of Tolerance to clients and their family members.
7. Utilize the New Model of The Window of Tolerance to assist in effective Trauma treatment and conceptualization
